PAIN PHYSICIAN OVERVIEW

Pain Physician (PPJ), the official publication of the American Society of Interventional Pain Physicians (ASIPP®), is published 6 times per year. The print versions are published in January/February, March/April, May/June, July/August, September/October, and November/December. The printed PPJ articles are posted online. Each issue of the journal has online content as well. In addition, Pain Physician publishes special topical issues periodically.

Pain Physician is a peer-reviewed, multi-disciplinary journal written by and directed to an audience of interventional pain physicians, clinicians, and basic scientists with an interest in interventional pain management and pain medicine.

Pain Physician presents the latest studies, research, and information vital to those in the emerging specialty of interventional pain management — and critical to the patients they treat.

Pain Physician was first published in 1999 to create a forum for scientific and clinical developments in interventional pain management and to take an active role in promoting regulatory changes, compliance, and practice management in an increasingly complex health care environment. The journal has been selected for listing on the Thomson Scientific's ISI Web of Knowledge. In addition, Pain Physician is listed in Excerpta Medica, EMBASE, Index Medicus, Medline, and PubMed.

The growth and success of Pain Physician reflects the outstanding work of a large number of physicians and scientists dedicated to the advancement of interventional pain management. Today, interventional pain management is a recognized medical specialty with its own identity and representation at state and national levels. Physicians practicing interventional pain management are referred to as interventional pain physicians regardless of their primary medical specialty (e.g., pain management anesthesiologist, pain management neurologist, pain management physiatrist, etc.). This spirit of unity among the various component specialties has helped foster an environment conducive to the promotion of scientific and clinical innovations.

Pain Physician is an open-access journal available online at www.painphysicianjournal.com

The Pain Physician is published 6 times a year to furnish more timely information.

THE VOICE OF PAIN MANAGEMENT SINCE 1998

A Message from the Chairman of the Board

Please use this media kit as a handy reference for ASIPP®'s promotional opportunities.

Pain Physician is published 6 times per year for ASIPP® members, libraries, interventional pain management companies, plus others. Each journal contains the latest studies and research vital to those in the emerging specialty of interventional pain management (IPM) and pain medicine. Additionally, we offer advertising opportunities in the various topical issues we publish. You can be assured that the Pain Physician reaches the people who need-to-know!

- e-News is targeted mainly to ASIPP® members and others who are interested in the specialty's latest news and information. This weekly electronic newsletter is filled with information relevant to ASIPP® members and IPM professionals. Each issue features articles and information on regulatory changes, compliance, practice management, and governmental issues; need to know information in an increasingly complex health care environment.
- Physician Wanted online Job Board. Reach ASIPP® members and IPM organizations with an online listing in our Physician Wanted section at <http://jobs.ASIPP.org/home>
- Event Sponsorships/Promotions. There are multiple sponsorships and promotions available in conjunction with our meetings. Contact Melinda Martin for available opportunities.

ASIPP® sponsors receive additional advertising benefits including complimentary ads and priority level placement. We always have the best interest of our sponsors and advertisers at heart. When you advertise with us, you can expect optimum exposure to your targeted audience.

I, personally, want to thank you for your continuing support.

Sincerely,

Laxmaiah Manchikanti, MD
Chairman of the Board and CEO, American Society of Interventional Pain Physicians
